OFFICERS ELECTED IN

CHURCH MEETING

Salt Lake, Nov. 12.—The Congregational association meeting on Friday, which was the second of the two days' session, was well attended, happy and profitable. The reports from the different points throughout the state showed a decided improvement over last year.

The following officers and commit-tees were elected to serve for the ensulng year: Moderator, Rev. Frank G. Brainerd; home missionary com-mittee, D. E. P. Mills, G. W. Long-necker and Edward Merrill; committee on education, J. Challan Smith and F. G. Brainerd; program committee, the moderator, the register and G. W. Longnecker; committee on resolutions, P. A. Simpkin, A. J. Gra-

YOUNG MEN

At a meeting held in the parlors of the Methodist church last evening the D. O. R. an organization for young men very similiar to the Y. M. C. A., was launched with twenty-five charter members. The young men interested in the new club are largely high school students but any young man employed in any useful occupation is eligible to membership. The new or-ganization will be affiliated with the "Boy Scout" movement which has just been launched.

The meeting last night was a very by Secretary Wright of the Salt Lake Y. M. C. A.; C. A. Wyman, the boys' Y. M. C. A.; C. A. Wyman, the boys' director of the same organization, and Rev. F. V. Fisher, pastor of the M. E. church. The latter has taken an active interest both in the Boy Scout movement and the organization of the D. O. R. Club. He believes that the newer organization, many members of which are high school cadets, will be of great benefit to the Boy Scouts and a large number of the D. O. R.'s will probably be assigned as leaders in the Scout movement.

At the conclusion of the meeting last night a banquet was tendered the members of the new organization, the feast being served by Mrs. S. J. Griffin, Miss Griffin, Mrs. Maud. Bigley and Mrs. C. L. Smith.

The banquet tables were set in the movement.

The banquet tables were set in the form of a cross and decorated with the colors, blue and gold.

After four hours' deliberation a jury in the district court last evening returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Frank O'Neil, who trict No. 108, hereby give notice that they will meet at the City Engineer's Office, City Hall, Ogden City, Utah, doctor's certificates in order that they might escape the compulsory school law, the board of education at its meeting last evening threatened to publish the names of Ogden physicians issuing such certificates unless the practice is discontinued at once

At the previous meeting of the board Superintendent Mills was empowered by the board to make an investigation and compel all children of the proper age to attend public schools regularly in compliance with the state compulsory school law. Al-though he has but one week in which to make such an investigation he reported to the board last evening that he had found among the cases where children possessed doctor's certificates excusing them from attending school some few where there was absolutely no physical allment warranting the issuance of such a certificate

After All the Children.

Having received the endorsement of his action by the board, Superin-tendent Mills is determined to have all children within the legal age limit attend the public schools. Through action taken by the board it is planned to extend the practice of wearing cadet uniforms by the high school boys into the third and fourth year classes. While the members of the two upper classes will not be compelled to take the drills, as is now the case with the first and second year boys, they will be per-boys of the Junior class must continue to wear cadet uniforms next year and the following year a similar order, applying to the senior class, will be passed. The orders, taking effect in this manner, will not make it necessary for the present members of the third and fourth years to pur-chase new uniforms.

Military Drill in High School, Through a report made by Super-intendent Mills it was shown that there are ninety-one boys taking the military drills at the high school instead of thirty-seven as reported by one of the board members at a previous meeting. That includes all who were drilling. Only those students who are members of the foot-ball squad and those who have doc-tor's certificates are excused from the drills. After a brief discussion the board last night authorized the expenditure of $134 for equipment to be used by the students in their military drills. These drills, which were not looked upon with fayor at first by some members of the board, have been found to be one of the best courses of training at the high school.

An expenditure of $10 for an emergency case, petitioned for by the girls of the high school, was authorized by the board.

Thanksglving Holidays.

In accordance with the board's order there will be no sessions in the public schools of Ogden on Thanksgiving day, November 24 nor the day following, the sessions not to be taken up until Monday, the 28th. The mat-ter of a week or two weeks' vacation at holiday time was also discussed but action was deferred until the next regular meeting, Superintendent Mills reported that concrete work on the foundation of the new Twenty-second street school house would start today it having been impossible to get water piped into the grounds until now. The forms for the concrete foundation have been in place for several days.

There was no official health report submitted but Miss Williams, the secretary, reported to the board that three were still a few cases of scarlet fever in the city. One member was of the opinion that scarlet fever was on the increase and believed that it was due to the burning of leaves. No official action was taken to terminate the practice.

The report of the treasurer showed that there was a balance of $3,228.00 on hand. A large number of bills were ordered paid, The business last evening was transacted by three members of the board, Asael Farr and W. H. Williams being the absentees.

Frances H. Porter, chief of the Fire Underwriters' Inspection bureau, made one of his regular visits to Ogden yesterday and inspected the city's waterworks system and fire fighting equipment. Mr. Porter has charge of a large western territory for his company and reaches Ogden about every two months.

After making a thorough inspection of conditions he expressed himself as well pleased. He was especially well pleased with the fact that the big reservoir, from which the city draws its water supply, is full of water and thereby affords unlimited protection

The inspector was also well pleased with conditions at the fire department but especiaaly so with the new auto, which was recently installed. He stated that this was one of the biggest assets of the fire fighting equipment. It is on the reports turned in by Mr. Porter that the Fire Underwrit-Association increases or decreases the rates of insurance

On the inspector's announcement of improvements in fire-fighting equipment of a city a credit is given that city and eventually results in a reduction of the rates.

Great Construction on New Bingham & Garfield West of Here.

Without noise or exploitation, one of the most interesting lines in the west is being constructed along the east slope of the Oquirrh range of moun-tains. This work is being performed by the Utah Construction company for the Bingham & Garfield, the new railroad planned by the officials of the Utah Copper company to handle the immense ore tonnage between Bing-ham and Garfield. The order in the first place was to secure a low-grade line, and with this in view and the idea that the first construction would be of the very best, the engineers have mapped out a route which combines many noteworthy features. The Utah Construction company has the contract, but it was sublet to many cthers, the Wasatch Construction cthers, the Wasatch Construction company having quite a heavy piece of work on the upper end, which is hearly completed. The line calls for many tunnels and there are being bored by various station men, while Myers Bros. and Gibbons Bros. each have a contract for one of the longer ones. The continued fine weather has been a great boon to the contracters and the absence of the usual au-tumn storms has enabled them to report progress far more extensive than they anticipated. So apparent is this fact that the contract can be easily completed in schedule time.

Almost the entire line is a moun tain railroad, and from Garfield to Bingham the road is somewhat similar to the Cripple Creek road, which made Colorado Springs famous. This has caused the management to already think seriously of making it a passenger tourist line, with a one-day trip to the mines and smelters that cannot be equaled in any other city. It will make the "Oquirrh Route" famuos the world over.

The road will be in operation next summer, and it is the intention of equipping it with cars that are the equal of any on the New York Central or the Pennsylvania.

WOMEN ARE AFTER GREAT CONVENTION

Ladies' Literary Club Is Planning to Secure the Big

Meet. Salt Lake, Nov. 12.—The matter of securing the convention of the general federation of women's clubs for Salt Lake at its 1912 biennial is still the vital matter in local club circles, and at its regular business meeting held yesterday afternoon, the Ladies' Literary club voted to make a contribution of $500 to the fund for entertaining the convention. The vote was unanimous, despite the fact that the club is just now bending every effort toward paying for its big new club house, the plans for which have been formally accepted by the board of directors. The board in its quarterly report, through its secretary, Mrs. L. E. Hall, gave many reasons for its action, first setting forth that contrary to previous reports, the building committee was empowered by the club to act for it in all matters pertaining to the new club house. The report of the board was not acted upon, either for or against, despite the fact that a motion was made to approve the action, this motion being ruled out of order.

The recently appointed "press committee" was abolished, and the vote by which it was created rescinded. The time of the club was prolonged far beyond the hour for adjournment and then the club merely quit for the purpose of examining the revised plans submitted by Ware & Treganza, the successful competing architects Besides the regular programme of the club the music section reported its action to the club in regard to the coming symphony concerts, showing through its chairman, Mrs. A. H. Peabody, some splendid accomplishments. The club members have taken tickets to the number of 1000 to dispose of, and the concerts, which this year will be given on Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock, are already assured the patronage or the club members as a whole.

Read how two egg-raisers cleared in one year $6.41 per hen, or over

$12,000 PER YEAR

on their flock of 1953 hens

HE ordinary poultryman will say it can't be done—that $2 to $3 per hen is the very utmost that even an expert can make, clear. He will say that even if a few experienced men could make $6.41 per hen, it is impossible for two mere beginners to do it.

And yet that is exactly what the Cornings, father and son, DID DO in 1908. Starting five years ago with only 30 hens, with no experience, with Prof. Gowell's bulletins as their foundation, with many experiments and much hard work, this was the result in 1908-over $12,000 profit from 1953 laying pullets. Read the whole story in the (entitled "$6.41 per Hen per year"). Not what the Cornings might do, or could do, or want to do, but what they DID DO. No impossibilities, no wild promises of fortunes from a few hens in a dry-goods box. Simply a cool, careful, comprehensive account of how scientific egg-raising makes money ($12,000 per year) for two hard-headed business men

Are All Recognized Poultry Systems Back Numbers?

The Corning Egg Book tells everything—where the Cornings find their market, why they raise only white-shelled, sterile eggs, how they keep hens laying regularly in winter, when they hatch chicks that are to do their best work in December and January, how to mix the feed that produces the most eggs, how to prevent losses, how they found the best breed for egg-producing, and how their whole system works to that one end—eggs, eggs, EGGS. Many photographs of the Cornings' Sunny Slope Farm, with complete working plans of their buildings, showing brooder and laying houses, colony houses, breeding pens, door and floor construction, etc., etc. From these plans any builder can reproduce the plant, in whole or in part.

WHY THE COLUMBUS LEVIED ASSESSMENT

The following statement has been issued by Tony Jacobson, general manager of the Columbus Consolidated company:

Enclosed you will find notice of assessment No. 4 of 10 cents per share, evied on the capital stock of this company. The assessment is delinquent on the 26th day of November, 1910, and the date of sale is December 24, 1910. Enclosed you will also and south fissure and should catch find an envelope for the return of the the intersection at any time with an

This assessment has been levied for carrying on future development work at the company's property in

Coach Teetzel and Captain Egbert | the same is that the ore we now have developed is of too low grade to pay actual operating expenses. For the past year the company has barely paid expenses and has not been able to continue development work which should have been carried on. The directors think it a wise plan to carry on development work only for the present and try to have things in better shape by the time we are able to start a steady production.

We are now running two drifts east of our No. 3 shaft on the 400-foot level into an undeveloped portion of the company's territory. This development is being done on the east side of the big fault, known as the Columbus fault, and should ore be encountered in these workings it will be beyond the big fault and will no doubt prove to be a continuation of the rich ore shoot which we had above. This portion of the mine is very wet, but we have ample pumping capacity to take care of twice as much water, and we do not anticipate being troubled with water sufficient to interfere with our developments in this part of the mine

We are also following a large north east and west fissure, and at this intersection is where we expect results. for the purpose of paying off part of the indebtedness of the company and point, we will drift east on the fissure, where we will encounter the contact between the black and white Alta, and the necessity for levying lime. This is the point that has always made good in Columbus Conwe should not get the same results
